On the Toboggan.
Who said baseball?
Did any one ask if Paducah was still in the league, if the Kitty was still going, and if so where were the teams? The startling fact that baseball is dying a slow but sure death in Paducah has forced itself on the public and even a dog fight would excite more interest than the Paducah team seems to be exciting at present.
The Indians have been doing the toboggan act so lately that the public has ceased to feel any uneasiness about the result. The Indians will "rest there" all right and there is no mistaking this. If there was any doubt about the fact the team is now accomplishing, the public might take some hand in it, but no obstacles seem to present themselves to retard the slide the team is making.
The question is, will the fans know that the team is here when it arrives?

"Back" Freeman the pitcher formerly with Paducah but now with Evansville in the Central league, pitched a no-hit and no run game against Terre Haute Sunday. Evansville made two scores.

Charge of Collusion.
Milwaukee, Wis., July 31.—President J. D. O'Brien of the American Association, today issued a call for a meeting of the board of directors in Chicago tomorrow afternoon to sift the charges against Umpire Owen, of collusion, with gamblers, preferred by the secretary of the Minneapolis ball club, in connection with the last Minneapolis-Columbus series. The board of directors' meeting will be followed by a meeting of the American Association magnates.

St. Louis	11.4	0.9	fall
Mt. Vernon	9.8	0.5	fall
Paducah	13.2	0.7	fall

July on the rivers has been a month of uncertainties. The steady fall from 9.1 on the 1st, to the 14th, when the river with a stage of 6.0 was at its lowest here, suggested wholesale laying off of large boats and substitution of lighter draft boats. General rains, however, started an upward movement and the river rose to 14.1 on the 29th.
This morning the gauge showed a stage of 13.2, a fall of 0.7 in the last 24 hours. Rainfall in the same period was .46 inches. With the exception of March of this year, there has been more rainfall in July than any month since July 1904. Rainfall for July was 6.02 inches.

On the 12th the Peters Le passed down hurriedly to get to Memphis ahead of low water and the suspension of navigation by that line was a heavy blow to river business. The Buttorff which was succeeded by the Dunbar will resume its regular trade.
The City of Saffilo will be due to arrive this evening from St. Louis on the in trip to the Tennessee river.
The Seloto of Davenport, Ia., will go on the dry docks today for repairs. The Seloto is a government boat and is peculiarly built. Though a small boat it has side wheels and is shaped like an arrow-head at the narrowest is 11 feet wide and at the widest is 21 feet wide.

The Dick Fowler had a good trip to Calro and way points this morning.

The John Hopkins was the regular Evansville packet today.
Owing to the failure of the Dunbar to arrive yesterday, the Buttorff did not leave for Clarksville, but will leave Wednesday for Nashville. The Dunbar will be repaired on the dry docks.

The Bob Dudley will probably get off the dry docks Wednesday and will run in the Goconda trade while the Royal is being repaired.

The Inverness arrived this morning from the Cumberland river with a tow of five.

The Savannah will be due out of the Tennessee river tonight on the return trip to St. Louis.

The Clyde arrived at noon yesterday from the Tennessee river and left immediately for Joppa. The Clyde will leave for the Tennessee river Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock.

Every time the river falls so low that the regular boats have to quit running, a new impetus is given to the agitation for an all-the-year-round 9 foot stage. River men generally expect the river business to revive with something of its old life should such a millennium of river conditions come about. As it is, there is little stimulus for capital to seek investment in boats when they must lie up half the time.

The Calro Bulletin says: Supervising Inspector of Steam Vessels S. B. Crumbaugh yesterday issued from Washington a notice which will be of interest to steamboatmen generally. At a session of the board of supervising inspectors, held in Washington last winter, a rule was passed requiring that no steamboat would be allowed to navigate unless she had aboard a certificate of inspection setting forth the fact that it came up to the requirements of the law. The latest ruling of the board required that the inspection be made in plenty of time so that the new certificate could be issued on the date of the expiration of the old one. The order received yesterday instructs Maj. Crumbaugh and local inspectors of steam vessels, Dameron and Payton, to issue a temporary license if the boat has been found to come up to all requirements, to be issued by the customs office.

In the halcyon days of successful steamboating in the Louisville and New Orleans trade, for years "befo' do wab," there was no man better known or better liked as a pilot on the fine, fast palaces of those days than Capt. Wes Connor, who died at his home in New Albany last Thursday night. A clever and popular man, a successful pilot and always a modest unassuming, polished gentleman, John Richardson, Henry Christopher, Chris Damon, Jeff Stewart, Billy Underwood and Rajre Jamison were all his partners in the pilot houses of such boats as the Peytona, Alex Scott, Baltic, Diana, Enphie, Ellipse and other fine, fast boats of antebellum days, but they have all gone "off warch," and now the best and best known of them all has made his last landing, and—

"Gone ashore,
To stand a watch on boats no more."
One by one they are passing away, and in a few more years all will be gone, leaving none to tell of the grand boats and happy days of successful times of steamboating on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, never to return. Capt. Connor was one of the few old-time steamboatmen left to tell the story of old times on the river.—Courier Journal.

OBITUARY FORECASTS.

The Ohio from Evansville to Calro and the Mississippi from below St. Louis to Calro, will continue falling during the next several days.

NEWS OF KENTUCKY

Favor Governor Beckham.
Lancaster, Ky., July 31.—At the conclusion of a union service meeting last night in the Methodist church, the Rev. R. M. Nelson, pastor of the church, who delivered the sermon, called on all who favored the course of Gov. Beckham in the closing of saloons on Sunday to rise. Everybody stood up. The Democrats of this county met in the court house July 23, and endorsed Senator McCreary. A resolution was offered endorsing Beckham for his stand against the saloons and gambling. It was promptly voted down, causing much comment. The pastor said this action he hoped would cause other churches to endorse Beckham's policy on the whisky traffic.

Lexington's Population 50,000.
Lexington, Ky., July 31.—Lexington today became a city of 50,000 people, as the ordinance recently passed by the general council to annex the outlying territory for a half mile became a law today. The ordinance was protested against by numerous residents beyond the old city limits, and it is said that the matter will be carried to the courts.

Shinobly Ate the Ring.
Owensboro, Ky., July 31.—At a church festival here this last week a child's hand ring was placed in a cake and was not again found, and it is feared that one of the many children who ate of the cake swallowed the ring. Many mothers are anxiously watching for appendicitis symptoms.

German Immigrants for Southwest Kentucky.

The Paducah Commercial club is endeavoring to perfect arrangements by which they can have the co-operation of all the property owners and business people in the five counties comprising Jackson Purchase, in an effort to establish an immigration bureau in connection with the Commercial club work, for the purpose of bringing in desirable immigrants to locate on the vast acreage in this section that is now undeveloped and unoccupied.

Robert Whitehorn, commissioner of immigration, reports a total of 1,062,044 immigrants as having arrived from foreign countries for the last year ending June 30. Ellis Island at New York handled 888,380 of these.

If the plans of the Paducah Commercial club are carried out, hundreds of good families, principally Germans, can be obtained to settle on our vacant lands scattered throughout the counties comprising the Purchase within the next two or three years. This will be carried out faithfully and energetically, if those who would be benefited will show proper encouragement in this matter, and encourage the Commercial club in this work.

The club has already distributed a grant deal of literature advertising this section of the state. It is the desire of the club to hold in Paducah early in September, a meeting or convention at which, it is hoped every one in the southwestern section of the state will attend. It is also the intention at this meeting to have as many as possible enroll themselves as members and co-workers in this movement. It is also intended at this time to complete the organization of an immigration bureau to represent all the counties of the Purchase in this great work.

No one can question the vast benefit that such a movement will be to this section if carried out, but it cannot be successful without the co-operation of the people.

It means a great increase in our population; a great increase in the wealth and prosperity of southwest Kentucky; it means that every patch of land in the entire Purchase can be made to blossom into beautiful homes and thriving farms, and now where thousands and thousands of acres of unoccupied land can be seen in the course of three to five years can be seen German families, law-abiding and industrious, adding to the wealth and prosperity of southwest Kentucky. It means a better supply of efficient labor for our factories and farms, and the substantial improvement and progress of this entire section.

We cannot conceive of any possible reason why this movement should not be encouraged and assisted by every property owner and business man in southwest Kentucky; because, if made a success, it will be of some benefit to every individual.

The Commercial club invites correspondence with all the citizens and business men embraced in the Jackson Purchase in relation to this question. We want to enroll the names of those who would be interested, and who will assist us in this work.

Yours very truly,
PADUCAH COMMERCIAL CLUB,
D. W. COONS, Secretary.

DRASTIC ACTION BY HEALTH BOARD

May be Taken to Enforce Public Regulations.

Discovered Sewer Connections With Bradshaw Creek—May Be Declared Nuisance.

APPEAL TO THE STATE BOARD.

Backed by the police powers of the state the Paducah board of health will see to the enforcement of its orders and regulations, if it is necessary to resort to the ultimate resource, state quarantine, to command obedience. This was the decision at a meeting held last night.

"There is a final recourse for the city board of health to take to have its mandates effectively observed and it will be resorted to in the near future unless the passiveness of the citizens, the board of public works and the executive departments changes to activity," said a member.

"The inability of the board of health to enforce some of its orders for sanitary reform, occupied the attention of the members at their meeting last night. Having studied the sanitary needs of the city scientifically and carefully, they have time and again recommended reforms, which would make the city in a large measure proof against epidemics, but the spirit of most citizens was typically illustrated a few days ago when a citizen, who had been ordered by the inspectors to clean up the weeds on his place said: 'I know it ought to be done and that there ought to be a law to make it be done, but there isn't so, what are you going to do about it?'

"The step the board finally will take will be to report to the state board of health that it is powerless to do more than suggest, and the state board may send an inspector here, who will have the power to order the city quarantined until it satisfactorily is cleaned up."

The board decided to meet regularly the second and fourth Monday nights in each month at the city hall. The inspectors were ordered to notify property owners to cut the weeds on their property, failure to do which will result in warrants being issued. The board will carry these cases to the court of appeals if necessary.

Several of the principal plumbers were present at the meeting and reported that there were sewer connections with Bradshaw creek. This condition will be declared a nuisance. Then it will rest with the board of public works to initiate the necessary legislation to remedy the condition.

IN THE LOBBY

A chair-crutch is the latest product of the feminine mind and the idea is good, far above the average. It was, as is the case in many other instances, the result of necessity. An aged woman, who was lame in the left foot, was assisted from the early morning Cairo-Paducah accommodation train by Capt. Bob Dawes, the popular conductor. He offered her assistance to the waiting room, but she waved him aside. She had a chair, a common cane-bottom chair, and placing her knee in the bottom utilized it as a crutch. When she got tired she would sit down in it. "That woman conceived this idea this morning when she started from her home at Barlow," a member of the crew stated. She placed her knee in the bottom of the seat and accidentally noticed that she could use it in locomotion. She decided to carry it along, and has attracted attention wherever she went.

Dave J. Levy, the Second street merchant, in looking over the stock he purchased of Ben Michael, of Cairo, a few days ago, found an old-time six-shooter. Smith & Wesson revolver that he thinks was the property of Jesse James. It is nearly a foot long, of 41-caliber, and is of the pattern of 1860. On the inside of the handle is the initials "J. J." It is said James marked all of his pistols in this manner. The date, 1876, is also cut in the handle. Michael did not know where he got the revolver, but says he has had it over seven years.

Veracity by Wire.

A bright young man was engaged in a desultory conversation with a prominent financier of a most economical disposition when the great man suddenly invited attention to the suit of clothes he was then wearing.

"I have never believed," said he, "in paying fancy prices for cut-to-measure garments. Now, here's a suit for which I paid eight dollars and fifty cents. Appearances are very deceptive. If I told you I purchased it for thirty dollars, you'd probably believe that to be the truth."

"I would if you told me by telephone," replied the young man.—Success.

Drawing Card.

"Jim writes home," said the old man, "that he has drawn on me for $20 a'g'in."

"What's up now?"

"College dinner. Last time he drew $20 for breakfast."

"Yes?"

"An' $20 for supper."

"You don't say?"

"Fact. Run an' hitch up the hay hoss quick!"

"What air you a-goin' to?"

"I'm a-goin' to throw myself into the han's of a receiver, an' take the bankrupt net before Jim draws on me fer lunch!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Bids for Garbage Contract.

In accordance with a resolution passed by the city council of the city of Paducah and approved by the mayor July 12th, 1906, the undersigned have been appointed a committee to receive bids for the collection and delivery at the garbage dump, foot of I. C. Incline, during the months of August and September of all garbage and refuse matter of any kind, all such work to be done under the general supervision and control of the board of health and in accordance with the above mentioned resolution.

MAYOR'S FRIENDS DEFENDED BY HIM

Says the Rev. T. J. Newell is Unjust to Them.

Denies That They Are "Low Down Crowd," But Says They Are Equal of Ministers.

CHIEF COLLINS HIS FRIEND.

When asked if he had anything to say in regard to the remarks and criticisms of the Rev. T. J. Newell, in his sermon Sunday on the moral conditions of the city, in which the minister severely criticized "the crowd" backing the mayor in his last canvass for the mayoralty, and the police department, the mayor, in his usual manner said:

"I have the greatest respect for Brother Newell, and am with him in his efforts to better the moral conditions of Paducah but I regret very much that he did not put himself better before making some of the remarks about the executive departments that he did. I do not think the gentleman would have made any remarks which he thought he could not back up, but he has been sadly misinformed on some things."

"With reference to the Sixth street saloon, about which he made such stinging criticisms of Chief of Police Collins, I shall say that Collins secured a number of witnesses in this case, and brought them to the city hall in an effort to prosecute the offender, but the city judge, with due respect to him, said there was not sufficient evidence on which to convict. Times without number, in different cases of such nature, Sunday violations and the like, Collins ran up against the same thing."

"On the surface it may look as if we were at fault here at the hall, but if these things are investigated, as fairness would prompt any man to do before making the criticisms the Rev. Mr. Newell did, in a different phase would be put on them. I have known 'Jim' Collins now for over 35 years, and I say I don't think Paducah has ever had a better official," continued the mayor.

When asked what he had to say about the reverend gentleman's remark about the "low down gang" behind him, the mayor said:

"I can only say, and say it with the greatest of satisfaction, and with all the evidence to bear me out, the remark, that I was backed, voted for, supported or anything by which we may term it, by as good men as there are in the ministry of Paducah or any other city."

The mayor, while approving some of Dr. Newell's remarks, and appreciating the spirit that prompted them, deplored the unwarranted attack on his friends, and said he was ready to defend them at all times.

One remark Dr. Newell made in one of his sermons that some people deplore as extravagant was "There is not a sixteen-year-old boy or girl in Paducah, who has a pure moral sense." "With all due respect to the gentleman," said a prominent citizen this morning, "that is a slander on the children of Paducah we should hardly expect from the ministry."

Daily Thought.

"The work that cheers is never hard."

WHAT IT MEANS.

The proposition of the board of park commissioners to issue $100,000 in municipal bonds for the purpose of building a chain of parks through the city connected with a boulevard system, is bewildering in its suddenness and magnitude; but found to be of the essence of simplicity, which is economy, or analysis. The proposition only means that this board intends, if the people sanction its plan, to accomplish the work of 30 years in two or three, afford the present generation an opportunity to enjoy the fruits of the park improvement appropriations, and give the city of Paducah whatever advantage and advantage that the result of presenting a pleasing aspect to the eye of the transient visitor.

In voting this bond issue the people of Paducah are not confronted with the many complex questions of finance that usually attend such an election.

The amount of money to be provided for in the bond issue, will be spent in annual installments for the length of time the bonds are to run whether the people vote for them or not. The issuance of bonds will neither increase nor diminish the amount of the annual appropriation. The economy or wisdom of acquiring one or more parks in the course of the next few years does not enter into the consideration of the bond issue; because Paducah will have one or more parks in twelve months, and the number gradually will be increased as the money becomes available. So the only question the people have presented to them at the election is whether they consider the members of the must be appropriated annually by the city, the commissioners decided that results would be reached more quickly by developing the whole park system at once, than by building it up by piecemeal. The issuance of $100,000 in bonds does not mean that the board will spend all that money in a year; but it does mean that the board will have available whatever amount is necessary to purchase sites in every ward and develop them all at the same time; so that when one is completed ready for public use, all will be. This would be impossible under the annual appropriation, as the board is not permitted to anticipate its revenue to meet the current expenses of the department, and during the last half of the fiscal year the work of improvement would drag.

The advantages of Paducah possessing a park system such as proposed are so obvious as to preclude argument. Whatever objection any one might have to making a voluntary appropriation for parks at this time, he cannot deny their utility and the added attractiveness they give a city. Louisville is renowned for her park system, which cost over $2,000,000. Nearly as much more will be spent by that city soon in opening new play grounds. The reputation of a town disseminated by transient visitors does much to make or mar its fortunes. With a fine park system and boulevards, an example will be set property owners that will induce them to make our residence streets bloom like gardens.

In thirty years these park sites will cost many times the amount asked for them. In thirty years we will feel the need of breathing spaces, whereas now we call them beauty spots. And now they are right at hand. Without the expenditure of an extra penny; without increasing the burden of taxation one iota; but, on the other hand, in the practice of plain economy, we can acquire a magnificent park system and enjoy it ourselves, and see Paducah, the Pride of the Purchase take on a reputation for beauty, the rival of her name in the nation's commerce.

OBSCURE RULE.

It is conclusive proof that an institution has outlived its usefulness when it must be maintained by force. Superiority as between individuals when it constantly must be asserted to be recognized, is, properly speaking, no superiority at all; for real superiority never needs to be asserted, and not merely survives because it is fitted, but cheerfully is recognized by inferior spirits.

That time may have been in Russia when the autocratic system of government was a manifestation of the governmental desires and needs of that people. But today, the efforts of the czar to maintain his government ideas by force, is clear indication that they have in a measure outlived their usefulness.

It is the heart of a situation that determines its real condition. Unless the core, the actual heart-feeling of a people endorses a form of government, it will not for long remain unchanged. For the form of anything simply is the outward manifestation of the inward state. And just as the shell of the egg remains unchanged until the new life within completely is ready to emerge, so will the Russian people, constantly developing and changing as they are, emerge from the governmental shell-form now apparently intact, into a new life and with a new form.

GROUND WIRE

GIVES W. A. KYLE A SHOCK HE WILL REMEMBER.

Leads Against Telephone Pole and Is Knocked Into the Street and Hurled.

W. A. Kyle leaned up against a telephone pole last night, at Sixth and Jones streets and when he came to himself several minutes later found he had been transferred to the middle of the street and had a badly burned right arm.

Kyle had leaned his arm against a ground wire which in some way had become charged and he received the benefits of nearly 1,000 volts of electricity. He was badly burned and knocked a distance of fully 20 feet.

Kyle was waiting for the car on which his wife was riding and being fastidiously had sought rest against the telephone pole. His injury is not serious but he is suffering a great deal from the burn. Kyle resides on Jones street between Fifth and Sixth streets.

PEARLS

ATTRACTING WHOLESALE MERCHANTS TO WABASH.

All Prominent Firms Are Represented on Ground Where Gems Are Being Found.

New York, July 31.—A rush of wholesale pearl merchants from New York to the Wabash, Mississippi and other western rivers has taken place in the last few days, so that all the prominent firms are now represented by one or more members or agents. The cause is a recent increase in the quantity of pearls being found in the mussel beds and the discovery of several unusually fine specimens.

The most valuable American pearl brought to New York this season, a round white one, weighing 68 grains, was brought several days ago by Maurice Brower, and is to be held now at $15,000, although it was sold by the original finder for 75 cents. The pearl came in a shell the size of a silver dollar, which was taken out of the Mississippi river on the Wisconsin bank.

Another pearl, offered for $5,000 last week by I. S. Anthon, of Commerce, La., is a 90-grain pear-shaped, drop of a pink color.

Other tinted beauties of various sizes up to 100 grains have also arrived from Vincennes, Ind., Prairie Du Chien, Wis., and other centers of the pearl-hunting activity. But the New York buyers, after seeing the early discoveries, set out for the rivers in order to buy on the ground.

The greater number of pearls found in the pearl season, have come from the Wabash, within 200 miles of Vincennes, but New York is also receiving supplies from the Mississippi, Wisconsin, Ohio and other rivers.

The Cure of Headaches.

By Osteopathy.

"What home would you call to treat a headache?" asked a layman. Any home that may be out of its correct position in the neck or back, so as to bring its pressure upon the nerves which express the pain sense—that is, if the headache happens to be due to a bony slip; but of course it may not be at all. That is one frequent cause, but there are many others which are apt to be operative. A muscular contraction in the neck, in the neck, or over the head, may likewise cause headache. Indigestion, eye-strain, mental fatigue, a sluggish liver, constipation, kidney disease, and many other things are frequent causes of headache. Hence the cure of headache osteopathically is the cure of its cause or causes. To find the remedy these causes, having as they usually do an anatomical basis, requires special and thorough training, and that is why osteopathy exists as an independent school of medicine. Its practitioners are specialists. They cure headaches, as they do other diseases not by "pulling," but by finding the cause of each special headache and giving that cause whatever treatment is needed to cure it. So is a dozen different headaches none might be treated alike osteopathically, and yet ten or eleven of the dozens would likely be cured.

Osteopathy is probably doing more for suffering humanity than any recent discovery, and I should like for you to investigate its merits. I should be pleased to see all who may be interested in osteopathy at any time from 9 a. m. to 12 and 2 to 5 p. m.

Osteopathy is the same, rational treatment of illness and disorders.

CASUAL REMARK

CAUSED THE SHOOTING, SAYS JOHN MULLER.

Claims That Sam Liebel Shot at Him —He Threw a Brick at Sam —Both Under Round.

John Muller claims that because he remarked that "people had better let my business alone," Sam Liebel secured a pistol and tried to make a target out of his head.

The shooting occurred between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon in front of Muller's residence on Ken tucky avenue between Eighth and Ninth streets. Muller was talking to a woman, a neighbor, and claims that after he had made this remark, which was the result of gossip at his expense, Liebel went to his store, donned his coat and returned with a pistol.

Three shots were fired at Muller before he could escape and Muller alleges that had it not been for the woman he was talking to dropping to the ground, she would have been struck by one of the balls. He admits he threw several bricks at Liebel.

Liebel was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail for carrying the revolver concealed and the malicious shooting case was continued until August 5.

Muller's case, charged with malicious assault, was continued until that date, both were recognized in the sum of $500.

BROAD DAYLIGHT
TIME OF ROBBERY

R. L. Heath's Residence Entered and Ransacked.

Neighbors See Intruder Leave but Are Not Suspicious—Money and Dollar Watch.

WOMAN SHOTS AT PROWLER.

A negro took possession of Mrs. R. L. Heath's residence this morning at 10 o'clock and after ransacking everything he thought might hold valuables, left with Mrs. Heath's purse and a Dollar Rogers watch. He was seen by neighbors at a distance but they did not think he was a thief, supposing some one had invited him into the house.

Mrs. Heath resides at 1207 Trimble street and was busy in the kitchen when the theft was committed. Her house was open, the negro having only to walk in. He emptied the purse into his hands and threw it into the yard. The watch he kept. The case was reported to the police who are working after a description of the negro.

A negro prowler, hatless and carrying his shoes in his hands, was shot at several times last night by Mrs. Charles L. Hunt, of 417 Adams street. She missed the mark.

Last night Miss Edna Hook spent the night with Mrs. Hunt, whose husband, a conductor on the N. C. & St. L. railroad, was out on the road. Miss Hook slept near a window and heard a prowler. She awakened Mrs. Hunt who secured a revolver and running to the front door opened fire at a negro, whom she saw slipping around the house.

Prowlers were heard at the residence of Mr. Harry Lloyd, 720 South Fourth street. The family was at the park Sunday night when the attempt was made to burglarize the house. Neighbors summoned officers and frustrated the attempt.

Shot at the Man.

Alvy Fink, who rooms at the residence of Mrs. H. E. Leming, 226 North Ninth street, was awakened by someone trying to get in his window and fired at the man. The man escaped. He had climbed the rear porch.

Greek Case Is Heard.

This morning Will Greek & company, operators of a refreshment stand on the Broadway road opposite Wallace park, were tried before County Judge R. T. Lightfoot for the alleged sale of intoxicating liquors without a license. Both charges were tried together.

The firm consists of Joe Wood, Will Greek and others and it is alleged several minors were made drunk while drinking polo ale or malt tonic sold by the firm. Senator Wheeler Campbell was representing the Evansville Brewing company, sellers of the beverage to Greek & company, and the defendants were represented by Attorneys Cline and Ross. The prosecution was conducted by County Attorney Allen Barkley.

The evidence consumed over two hours and the case was closed at noon. Judge Lightfoot held the case open until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock when he will hear the argument.

The point to be decided is if the beverage is intoxicating. It is of the same class that has so often been tested in courts, the manufacturers not having been held guilty heretofore to making intoxicating beverages.

Mr. J. T. Powell went to Dawson Springs this morning for his health.

Viola Allen to Give Up Her Career at the Close of the Coming Season

New York, July 31.—After her forthcoming season in "Cymbeline" Viola Allen is to retire from the stage into private life as Mrs. Peter Duryen. The announcement occasioned little surprise to those in the actress' confidence. It is well known that Miss Allen's ambition has been to play what she considers three of Shakespeare's greatest heroines. As Viola in "Twelfth Night" she was successful season before last, when she played the piece throughout the United States and Canada. Last season she appeared successfully in the "Winter's Tale," and the third part that she has always wished to play is Imogen in "Cymbeline." This ambition will be gratified during the coming season, and it is believed that when her three-year contract with Nixon & Zimmerman expires at the end of that time she will not renew it. In the midst of last season Miss Allen was married to Peter Duryen, a wealthy horseman. Viola Allen's first starring tour was in 1885 in a piece called "Talked About," which was not a great success. Since then she has been prominently before the theater-going public. She was for several years the leading woman of the old Empire Theatre Stock company, where a Rosemont in "Sowing the Wind" she made one of her greatest successes. Miss Allen appeared as Glory Quigley in Hall Tanc's "The Christian," as Roma in "The Eternal City," and as Dolores in "In the Palace of the King," her personal friendship with the authors considerably aiding her managers to secure the play. During her two seasons with Nixon & Zimmerman the profits have not been less than $45,000 either season, and are likely to be that again next year.

OFFICERS EVADE MOB OF LYNCHERS

Chased to Mound City From Mounds, Illinois.

Case is the Result of Bitter Feeling Between Races in Southern Illinois.

GET PRISONER ON THE TRAIN.

Mound City, Ill., July 31.—After a long chase, to capture him and after eluding, with difficulty, a mob of white men at Mounds, deputy sheriffs last night landed in the county jail here Sam McDonald, a negro connected with the murder of Homer Harris, a white man at a negro picnic a few miles above Ullin Saturday night.

McDonald, after he and Homer Travis, another negro, had trouble with Harris over their refusal to pay for riding on a merry-go-round, handed Travis a revolver and told him to "let him (Harris) have it."

Deputy Sheriff Hultz captured McDonald at Perks, a small station on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad, and wired other deputies at Mound City. They went to Perks to assist in bringing him here. The negro was taken from Perks to Ullin and where they boarded an Illinois Central train at 6:30 for Mounds.

A number of Ullin citizens who were greatly incensed over the murder of Harris went to Mounds on an earlier train and solicited the aid of Mounds citizens to help lynch the negro.

Serious trouble might have been experienced had the mob which had been readily formed, known that the negro was to have been brought in on the earlier train. They had not expected the deputies to arrive with him until 10:30 tonight and were therefore not prepared to act.

A Sad Ending.

A young clerk grown up in the employ of a prosperous German grocer was, by reason of his ability and knowledge of all the details, virtually entrusted with the management of the business, and, although given frequent advances of salary, began to feel that his services were absolutely indispensable, and not properly appreciated from a money point of view. He laid the matter before his employer, placing particular stress on what a difficult matter it would be to operate the business without him. This claim was admitted by the employer, who inquired further.

"But, Chon, what if you should die?" "Oh, then you would have to get along without me," remarked John.

After a few minutes' deep thought the employer looked up at John and said:

"Well, Chon, chust consider yourself dead."—Harper's Weekly.

The Quicker Way.

"There goes a man," observed a steamship agent, as he directed attention to a surly-looking individual who had just engaged passage for Europe, "whose efforts are devoted to constructing short cuts in business methods and in eliminating all time-consuming men and their propensities from his busy existence. He is a man of very few words.

"Some years ago this gentleman crossed the ocean and had a very pleasant trip. One morning a sympathetic passenger offered him a lemon, expressing a sincere wish that it would give relief.

"The pale traveler seized the lemon, hurled it viciously into the ocean, and growled:

"This is a quicker way than the other."—New York Times.

THE REV. B. W. BASS

Resigns Pastorate of Tenth Street
Christian Church.

The Rev. B. W. Bass, pastor of the Tenth Street Christian church, has resigned, effective in 60 days, and will seek another field of labor. The Rev. Bass came to Paducah from Louisville 17 months ago. He formerly was in charge of a church at Parkland, a suburb of Louisville. He made himself prominent in church work in Paducah and his resignation will be received with regret. He has not decided where he will go and made his resignation effective 60 days after date in order to give the trustees an opportunity to select a successor.

"This," observed the Boston Transcript, "should make us all very thankful—thankful that we don't have to become Ph. D.'s; thankful that the academically ambitious are put through so arduous a course of sprouts, and thankful that learning has arrived at a point where original investigation is possible only by recourse to extremely fine tooth methods. For a Ph. D., you know, must have added at least a crumb or chicken bone to the world's feast of facts."

A Correction.

Here is an example of the "pure cussedness" of a mere machine. The Washington, Pa., Observer observes apologetically: "Through an inadvertency there appeared in our account of a celebration tendered William Dismore at his wedding by several enthusiastic members of Company H the statement that the whole family 'came out and cussed.' This was a mistake. 'The writer meant to say 'came out and fussed,' but the linotype changed the 't' to 'c.' We greatly regret the occurrence."

HORSE RAN OVER AN AUTOMOBILE

Damaged the Machine and Escaped Injury

Animal Belongs to Auto Enthusiast,
Which May Account for Collision
Today.

STEERING GEAR IS RUINED

"Every dog has his day," remarked the members of No. 1 fire company on North Fourth street when a delivery horse ran over an automobile this morning and damaged the machine the horse escaping injury. It was an ordinary animal, too, and the fact that it is the B. Wellie delivery horse owned by automobile enthusiasts makes the matter the more interesting.

L. L. Hagar, a machinist employed by Foreman Bros., was driving his small "buckboard" automobile. He tried to make a quick turn and E. B. Willett, driving Wellie's horse was looking back to see if he had lost anything out of his wagon.

There was a crash, a few shouts and the automobile was put out of commission. The horse stood still and looked at the vanquished auto. It looked as though it was ashamed to be guilty and with hanging head awaited developments.

The small automobile runabout was sorely used. The steering apparatus was bent and twisted so that it had to be towed into the shop for an overhauling. Aside from a few scratches the horse came out a good winner.

Save the Quail.

We are shooting too many quail. We have cleaned them out of the older states of the north, and we of the north now go south to shoot off the supply down there, and, failing to accomplish this in our allotted time, and with only one pair of legs, each, we have a supply trapped and sent up home, to be turned out to breed and afford us shooting on our own grounds the next fall. A man living in New York can shoot quail from November 1 to New Year's Day, and then he can go down to Mississippi and keep hanging away till the first of May—a six months' quail season! And there are men who do it; and, furthermore, there are some who claim residence in more than one state, and so get out of paying a non-resident license fee.

When we remember that there are over 300,000 (government estimate) shooters in this country who hunt quail every year, and that a good percentage of these hunt both in the north and in the south, it is only reasonable to predict that, if conditions remain as they now are, the bob-white quail will soon, very soon, become one of our most rare, instead of our most common, game birds.

Do not depend upon legislation and the game warden to save the quail. Do not depend upon some other state to supply more when you have killed all there are in your state that the hawk and the owl and the weasels and Jack Frost have not got. Leave some for seed. It is not supposed that a sportsman will kill the last quail of a flock, but even some very well-taught sportsmen have a little way of forgetting their training when birds are scarce. Think what it would mean that 100 quail, many of them no doubt, native-born, would be left in that county to breed another year. Let the members of sportsmen's associations pledge them selves to such action and it will not be necessary to try to get live quail from the south next winter. We say try, because there will certainly be a strong shotgun quarantine against quail netters in Texas, and the commission merchant who can deliver live Alabama quail will be a wonder.—From "Recreation" for August.

A Stupendous Engineering Problem.

The new Grand Trunk Pacific, the biggest and the most interesting of the new railroad projects, is to pass through Edmonton on its way from sea to sea. Edmonton, indeed, practically bisects the western half of the line. Between here and Winnipeg, there are eight hundred miles of prairie; between here and Port Simpson, the terminal point on the Pacific, there are a thousand miles of mountains. On the prairie active construction work is today going forward; contractors' camps are swarming with Galician laborers; district and assistant engineers are riding back and forth over flat prairie and rolling prairie, sand hills and river bottoms; the pile-driver and the steam shovel are driving back the anolepe, the coyote and the jack rabbit; the new line, changing its form and substance before each new obstacle—now an embankment, now an excavation, now a trestle—is pushing inexorably westward. This much is a plain story of construction work. The plans have been worked out; the route has been surveyed and staked. The task of the engineers in charge is mainly to see that the contractors live up to the specifications. Further west it is different.

Open your atlas again and glance at the thousand miles between Edmonton and Port Simpson, on the Pacific. It is here that you find the blank spaces. Now try to imagine that an unknown wilderness lies between Chicago and New York. Imagine, too, that instead of the hills of Pennsylvania and New York you have the Canadian Rockies, with a dozen minor ranges thrown in for good measure. This means that you would be lucky to get through with a maximum altitude of five to six thousand feet. There are lakes, rivers and unbridgeable chasms in the way; but you, at Chicago, as division engineer in charge of the survey work, are expected to find the one best route to the sea—a thousand miles, remember, through the impossible—not a route, but the best route.

To complicate matters a bit, suppose that another division engineer, with the interests of a rival line deeply at heart, is also at Chicago, with precisely the same object in view. There is very little doubt that only one of you can have that best route. The man that misses it (it is barely conceivable that both may miss it), will put his company in the way of dropping millions of dollars in extra-difficult construction. All this must be made up out of profits. Suppose, too, that, after the two roads are built, your grades are steeper than his. Remember that the same engine will haul exactly twice as much up a four-tenths per cent grade as up a grade of one and two-tenths per cent. This mistake will probably turn out to be more costly than the first, for your rival will be able to haul more freight with the same expenditure for motive power, and your losses will accumulate from day to day. The remedy is, rebuilding—and millions more. In short, it is pretty sharply, as the saying runs, up to you. You must find that one best route without failing a day, and you must be very certain that you are finding it. —Success.

Lord Russell.

A new story is going the rounds about the late Lord Chief Justice, Lord Russell, of Killowen. A good many years ago a case was being heard by Mr. Justice Crompton. Edwin Jones, the leader, had thrown up his brief and stalked out of the court, disgusted with his client. But the junior counsel remained and proceeded to address the jury. "Don't you know, sir, that your leader has left the court?" snapped the judge. "Yes, my lord, but I still think there are some points which ought to be laid before the jury." The speech was made—no admiral, telling speech, making the heat of a bad case. The judge became interested in the stranger, then quite enthusiastic, and finally, at the conclusion of his address, made him a courtly bow and paid him a handsome compliment. The junior was Charles Russell, future lord chief justice.

"It's just scandalous the way the hearded lady is loadin' himself with booze these days," remarked the Wild Man from Burnee. "I should think he'd be afraid of delirium tremens." "Oh, no! He considers himself safe," replied the living skeleton. "He's married to the snake charmer, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

Correct Clothes for Motoring.

The motorist who is his own chauffeur—and being that is best—the fun of the game—dresses with the idea of comfort uppermost. Style is of secondary consideration. If, indeed, it is a consideration at all. Driving a swiftly moving car against wind through dust, and along roads often too stony and jolting, is a task which demands a sure eye, a steady wrist and absolute ease of the body. Fashion in dress must yield, then, to comfort, though there is no reason at all for not dressing both suitably and becomingly. The popular conception of the motorist as a creature of forbidding mien, clothed in garments suggestive of an Arctic explorer or a modernized Bluebeard is due to motorists themselves, some of whom delight to look spectacular, even if they are only out on a trip through the park.

Dress as lightly as you can and as warmly as you must. Let every garment have a place and a purpose. Don't pile on things indiscriminately just because you have seen others wear them or because they are attractively ingaged in the shops. "Auto Thick" or "Auto Thin." Ease and strength are precious in guiding a machine, and both should be husbanded for emergencies. The foundation of right dress is light underwear. This should be thick enough to keep the body warm in the constant breeze which blows when the car is in motion. I recommend mesh underwear of medium weight. It lets the air in and out, absorbs perspiration, and preserves a uniform temperature, something greatly to be desired. The shirt should be sleeveless, to give the wearer's arms perfect freedom, and "knicker" drawers are preferable to full-length drawers, for similar reasons.

As concerns outer dress, a distinction should be made between long and short runs. The short run in a light car requires very little "unfolding up," and any sort of loose flannel or tweed suit with a tweed cap will do. Leggings are serviceable, but by no means necessary. Many men prefer "knicker" trousers, like those for cycling, and golf stockings. This manner of dress is simple and sensible, and leaves the legs unencumbered. I am quite aware that it differs from the popular notion of what a motorist should look like, but experience has taught me that it gives the maximum of comfort.—Success.

Hiring An Indian.

When on a trip, the hunter or fisherman generally has to have a guide, and in many parts of the country an Indian is often the only one who possesses the necessary knowledge. He cannot be picked out by his employer as one would under ordinary conditions select his help, but is usually recommended by some one who knows him. He comes to us, therefore, as a stranger, and each has to find out the peculiarities of the other.

As we meet we salute him with an extended hand and a "How do?" His hand greets ours without a word in return and we do the shaking. The next move is ours. We inquire about the hunting—is it good this year around here?

"O-yes," is the answer, uttered in a one-syllable grunt.

"Can you take us where there are any deer or moose?"

"O-yes."

"How far will we have to go for them?"

"There," and his arm sweeps a lengthy section of the horizon in front of us.

"Oh, yes, we suppose so, but how many miles is it?"

"Not far."

"But don't you know how many miles we will have to go to get to where those deer and moose are?"

"Oh, four—five—ten miles," is the indefinite yet exhaustive reply. He appears to have made a superhuman effort to answer our question, in that he had to speak four words too many.

We then resolve to try a different line of questioning in our search for information, and so smile our pleasure in his last answer.

"How long will it take us to get there?"

"Not long."

"Well, how many hours?"

For answer to this he smiles in an ignorant way, as if he did not understand, so we pull out our watch, and say, "What time will we get there?"

"Tomorrow!"

But there is no use to complain against the Indian's procrastination, who believes tomorrow is just as good as today. And, after all, may he not be right? And what does he think of us and our hurry?—John Boyd, in August "Recreation."

Girl Jockeys.

The Japanese have added a new feature to horse racing. On May 21 a Gelsa girl rode a mare a mile in 1 minute and 50 seconds. The Gelsa girls are light in weight, and, it is said, will make good horsewomen. Japanese men are not notoriously bad riders that the girls may displace the boys as jockeys.

New Ideas.

Dip half a lemon in salt and rub on knife handles; then wash immediately in warm water, and the handles will be as white as when they were new.

To remove coffee stains, rub the spots with glycerine and water and they will disappear as by magic.

Heat a lemon thoroughly before squeezing, and you will obtain nearly double the quantity of juice that you would if it had not been heated.

If housewives who dislike to find worms when cutting apples would first put the fruit in cold water, they would find that the worms would leave the apples and come to the surface of the water.

After washing lace curtains lay a blanket on the floor in some empty room; spread the curtains on the blanket, stretching them carefully, and they will keep their place without any fastening until dried.

Graneware can be soldered as easily as tinware by adopting the following method: Brush over the edges of the holes to be mended with shellac, both inside and outside, and immediately apply the melted solder, which will adhere firmly.

To keep the neighbors' hens from scratching up your flowers, spread on the ground, close to the rows or clumps of plants, strips of heavy paper, point side up and place flat stones or pieces of brick on its edges to keep it from blowing away.

The very best way to keep violets fresh is not to put them in water, but to throw over them a handkerchief thoroughly wet, and set them in a draught.

The best thing for cleaning pencil erasers is a piece of old plaster. Keep a small piece always handy, and when the rubber gets spoiled a rub on the plaster makes it as clean as when new.

To keep iron sinks and iron kettles smooth and free from rust, never use soap in cleaning them. Wash them in the water in which potatoes have been boiled, using a well-boiled potato to rub any spot which may have become rough, or rusted, afterwards rinsing clean, with very hot, clear water. By cleaning in this way, they will always be smooth and free from rust.

An excellent cleaner for guitars, violins, etc., is made of one-third each of linseed oil, turpentine and water. These shaken together in a bottle form an emulsion or cream. Rub the instrument with a cloth dampened in the cream. Wipe dry and polish with a woolen cloth.

Place pulverized pumice stone between the layers of a folded piece of soft muslin and stretch around the edge to keep the powder from spilling. Wipe lamp chimneys or window panes with this dry cloth and they will be clean and sparkling almost instantly. Enough powder will remain in the cloth to be used many times.—Success.

How Pike Found His Peak.

On November 23, 1866, Gen. Zebulon Pike and a small party of soldiers arrived at the river forks on the present site of Pueblo. Here they built a breastwork of logs for defense. Then Pike started with three men to make a side-trip to the mountain that has for more than half a century borne his name. A week earlier on their Arkansas route he had seen the Grand Peak when it was more than a hundred miles distant. Its snowy crest had lured him on and now he was determined to try to ascend to the top. But he was woefully deceived as to the distance. He expected to be back in a day or two, but he was gone more than five days. He little dreamed of the obstacles in his way. He and his men were ill-clad, having only light summer clothes and they greatly suffered from the cold. They also endured the pangs of hunger and the tortures of thirst, going forty-eight hours without eating. On the third day (November 27) they gained the summit of an intervening peak, Cheyenne Mountain. "Here we found the snow middle deep," Pike writes, "no sign of heat or bird inhabiting this region. The thermometer, which stood at 9 degrees above zero at the foot of the mountain, fell to 4 degrees below zero. The summit of the Grand Peak, which was entirely bare of vegetation and covered with snow, now appeared at the distance of fifteen or sixteen miles from us. It was as high again as what we had ascended, and it would have taken a whole day's march to arrive at its base when I believe no human being could have ascended to its pinnacle." A few days later he attempted to measure the altitude of the north mountain (Pike's Peak), estimating its elevation to be 13,581 feet. Scientists of our day have taken more accurate observations and found the height to be from 14,108 to 14,147 feet, or nearly three miles above sea level.

BUILD YOU A HOME IN OAK DALE, PADUCAH'S PRETTIEST SUBURB

GO WHERE YOU CAN GET PLENTY OF FRESH, PURE AIR AND ENJOY COUNTRY LIFE WITH THE CITY CONVENIENCES. TERMS: $10 DOWN AND $10 PER MONTH

The movement of the population now days is from the city to the country, or suburb, as the value of pure, fresh air, with the cool breezes and high, well drained lands is more appreciated. It is as noticeable in Paducah as anywhere else, and the value of suburban property here has increased remarkably as a result. But, who seeing the many pretty suburban places around Paducah, does not have a desire for one?

I have sixty acres of the choicest suburban property left around Paducah—Oak Dale—part of the Thomas Boswell property, on The Pines road, within five minutes' walk of the car lines. In all probability the cars will be running right by the property in another year.

The land is 100 feet high, rolling, with plenty of shade, well drained, entirely free from malaria, and near it are the prettiest country places around Paducah—The Pines, Phillips', Flournoy's, Gregory's and Wallace's. The sales will be restricted to desirable people, thus assuring a high character of residences. I shall sell in from one acre plots up, $10 down and $10 a month, very easy payments. In less than two years it should advance 50 per cent. in value. The first announcement of the property being on the market brought a number of buyers, so it will take quick action to secure one of the desirable plots.

I should like to take you out to see the property at any time, or talk to you about it.

RECOGNITION

OF PROF. GILBERT'S TALENTS BY HIS CONSERVATORY.

Goes to Dallas, Texas, Much to Regret of His Friends in Paducah—Excellent Position.

Prof. Harry Gilbert has accepted a position with the faculty of the Southwest Music Conservatory, of Dallas, Texas and will leave some time in September to assume his duties. He will give instructions on the organ for the conservatory and has also accepted the position of organist for the principal Methodist church and the Jewish synagogue of Dallas.

The announcement, while gratifying to his friends, will be received with great regret. Prof. Gilbert is a Paducah boy of marked talent which is developing rapidly, and his friends have always hoped he would stay in Paducah to follow his career. He has given piano instructions to big classes and had charge of the principal organs of the city, as well as being connected with all the musical organizations in the city and his influence in musical circles since his return from Germany, where he went to continue his studies a few years ago, has been great for a young man. His departure will be a great loss.

Prof. Gilbert is ambitious, however, and the position at Dallas offers him an opportunity he has been eager for hence his conclusion to go. In addition to his position with the conservatory and as organist for two churches, he has been tendered the directorship of two excellent choral societies which is work he has always desired to do.

Prof. Gilbert will make his home with Frank Gilbert, a brother, in Dallas, and his mother will join him later.

GENERAL STRIKE

OF ALL WORKMEN ON CONSTRUCTION OF RAILWAY.

San Francisco Labor Situation Complicated by Trouble in Other Lines.

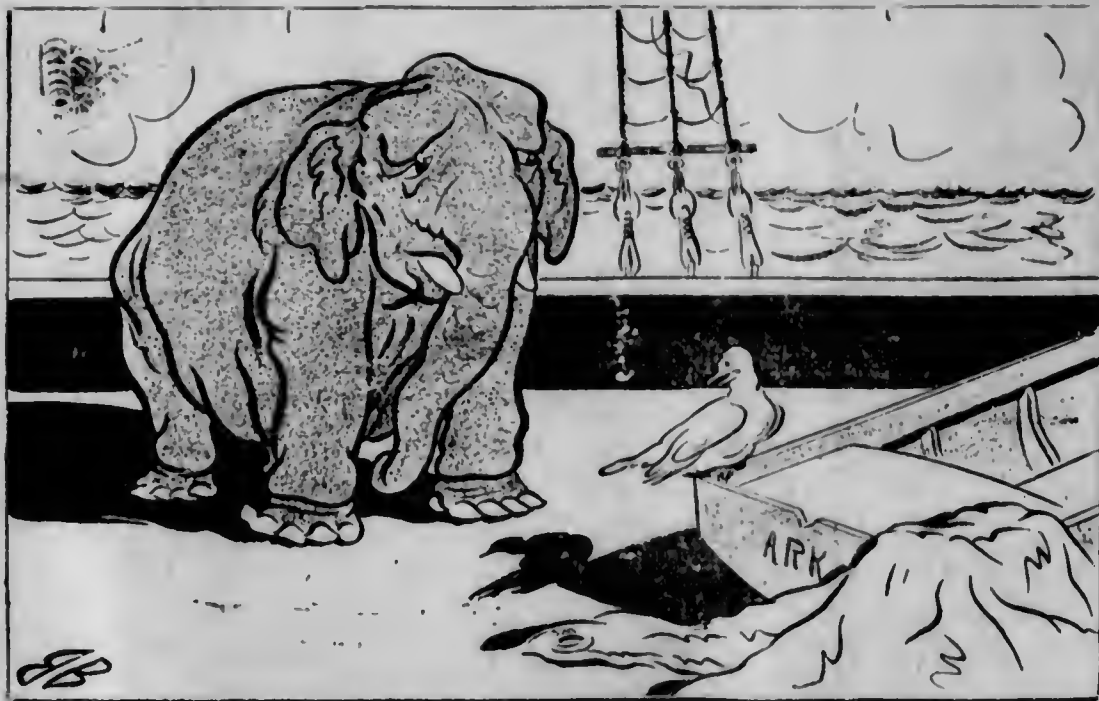

San Francisco, July 31.—To add to the complication of the labor situation in San Francisco and following close upon the heels of the strike of the Hemen and electricians on the United States railroads, all the laborers, pavers and other workmen engaged in construction work on the street railway system will be called out tomorrow morning. A general strike of all construction laborers and workmen on the United States railroads was decided upon at a special meeting of the Street Railway Construction Workers' union this afternoon and a committee named to call on the men tomorrow morning. The union numbers about 1,000 members but the order, it is said, will affect about 1,600 who are engaged in rehabilitating the street railways and changing the cable roads into electric systems.

It is alleged by the union that the United railroads started the trouble by discharging workmen because of their affiliation with and activity in the union.
